You will never find meaning in something so meaningless as love.

Love is just being hypnotized by beauty and influenced by natural selection to pass on the best genes. Love is appearance-based eugenics.